

Lookabout

About: Lookabout is a parlor game, played in the 1800s. Suitable for all ages, the Lookabout game was often played during parties but it can also be played with a little as two players.

Number of players: at least 2

Other supplies needed: object of your choosing

Instructions:

1. Choose a knick- knack or relatively small object (a toy, pair of sunglasses, etc.). One of the players will be in charge of hiding this item, the other(s) must leave room.
2. The player in charge of hiding the object can put it anywhere in the room BUT the item should be hidden in plain sight. All the other players should have to do is "look about" the room in order to find it.
3. When a player sees the object, he or she must simply take a seat. DO NOT reveal the location of the object. Silently take a seat until the last player finds the object. The last player to find the object is the next one to hide it.
