

Make Paper Plate Chickens

Materials

- 1 paper plate
- Yellow construction paper
- Red construction paper
- Scissors
- Glue
- Black crayon

Instructions

1. Cut your paper plate in half. Put the first half to the side, this will be the body of your chicken.

2. Fold the second half of the paper plate in half and cut three rounded feathers in the top of it for the tail

3. Glue the tail to one end of the first half of the paper plate (place the body of the chicken in the fold of the tail, gluing both sides).

4. Cut a triangle from the yellow construction paper and glue it onto the paper plate, opposite the tail.
5. Take you black crayon and add an eye on the paper plate, near the beak.

6. Now it's time for the comb! The comb is the red, spikey skin on top of a chicken's head. Cut a spikey looking shape from the red construction paper and glue it to the top of the chicken's head, above the eye.

7. Finally, the wattle! Similar to the comb, the wattle is also red. However, the wattle is smaller and sits beneath the chicken's beak.
Draw a long oval on the red construction paper and cut it out (see picture above)
8. Glue the wattle beneath the beak

You're all done!
